

Professional Ethics for the School-Based SLP

Quiz Review

1. The ASHA Code of Ethics applies to:
 - a. All ASHA members, certified or not
 - b. Applicants for membership or certification
 - c. CFs seeking to fulfill standards for certification
 - d. all of the above

2. Possible ethics charges related to reimbursement for services include:
 - a. Providing services to clients without insurance
 - b. Providing services to clients referred by a colleague
 - c. Providing services to more than one client at a time
 - d. Providing services more frequently than is necessary

3. Client abandonment is a concern if:
 - a. A CF has not completed his/her certification requirements;
 - b. The SLP has not found a replacement for his/her position;
 - c. The SLP has not maintained his/her focus on the welfare of the client
 - d. The SLP has only provided 30 days notice

4. ASHA's most recent revision of the Code of Ethics was:
 - a. 2010
 - b. 2012
 - c. 2016
 - d. 2017

5. If you have been convicted of a misdemeanor or felony, you should:
 - a. Self-report by notifying ASHA Standards and Ethics
 - b. Wait until the state has made it a matter of public record
 - c. Self-report only if you are still residing in the state where the conviction occurred
 - d. Do not self-report if the conviction did not include physical harm to a person

6. Ethical dilemmas may be avoided if you:
 - a. Use evidence-based practices as the basis for decision-making
 - b. Discuss potential ethical issues before they become a problem
 - c. Acquaint administrators with the Code of Ethics
 - d. All of these

7. How many Principles for the underlying basis for the Code of Ethics?
 - a. Four
 - b. Two
 - c. Five
 - d. Eight

8. When recognizing that you are working with an impaired practitioner, you should:
 - a. Contact ASHA immediately
 - b. Consult with a supervisor, administrator, compliance officer, lawyer, etc. before taking any action as an individual
 - c. Confront the individual directly
 - d. Ignore the situation if it doesn't affect you personally

9. Which of the following are the most common types of ethical complaints?
 - a. Reimbursement
 - b. Employer Demands
 - c. Affirmative Disclosures
 - d. All of these

10. Supervisors of graduate students should:
 - a. Establish clear boundaries in order to avoid a dual relationship conflict
 - b. Use a laissez-faire style of supervision so that the student is able to learn from his/her mistakes
 - c. Take advantage of every opportunity to remind the student that the supervisor is in control
 - d. Maintain close personal ties to the supervisee in order to build confidence